Virtual Event

Sponsorship Brochure and Application Form

Welcome

Dear companies,

We are glad and proud to welcome you in Aalborg, the capital city of North Jutland region. More than 200 participants are expected from all over the world, up to 50% of them from companies or private research institutions.

Aalborg University is a Danish university with the strongest academic environment and it is number 4 in the world and the best in Europe within the field of Engineering (source from US News World Rank 2019). This ranking is based on various indicators, such as project-portfolio, industrial relations, global reputation, research impact, publications and top-professors in terms of research impact. It will maintain the momentum of past COMPEL workshops as well as introduce new aspects of topics, especially in the field of Control, Stability and Reliability of Power Electronics and Systems.

Considering the uncertainties and resurgence of COVID-19 in Europe, the organizing committee and IEEE Power Electronics Society (PELS) decide to convert COMPEL 2020 to be fully virtual, in order to assure the safety and well-being of all participants.

The workshop dates will be the same – November 9-12, 2020. We will do our best to coordinate the time difference of speakers, and facilitate the engagement, interactions and idea-sharing among all the participants. More detailed information on the virtual technical program and instructions of speakers will be posted on the COMPEL website.

In this brochure, you find all the relevant information regarding a sponsorship. You are more than welcome to ask for a specific request. In the end of this brochure, you can also find the sponsorship application form, ready to be subscribed. Please do not hesitate to ask us about special advertisement requests; we are sure we can find a way to help you.

Last but not least, let us seize the opportunity to thank the sponsorship secretaries Mette Lindrup Skov Jensen and Bonnie Steffensen.

We look forward to seeing you online,
